IN-FLIGHT ENTERTAINMENT SYSTEM

Our in-flight entertainment system gives passengers access to a high-quality touch screen with a broad entertainment selection where they can also monitor the flight and get information about airports, departures and arrivals. The viewing of all the content, including films and television programs, will be free of charge for passengers flying Saga Class and Economy Comfort and for those passengers flying Economy Class who bring their own headphones.

Passengers will also have access to music selections, as well as the ability to purchase items from Icelandair's Saga Shop.

Other Economy Class passengers will be able to buy a set of headphones on board to enjoy all the content of the entertainment system. Children traveling in all classes get free headphones and access to special programs for their enjoyment. Joysticks are available for purchase to play video games on the in-flight entertainment system.
